WALL STREET, TUESDAY, Sept. 30-6 P. M. The event of the day on Wall street has been the reopening of the Stock Exchange, and it is gratifying to record at its close that not an incident has courred to mar the proprieties of the occasion, cast a shadow athwart the future or dim the hopes which since the beginning of the week seem to have possessed all hearts. The force of the panic ds unquestionably broken. So far as the metropolis is concerned we are recuperating. The brunt of the storm has passed, and although its course has been marked by a trail of débris sorrowiul to look upon, and though we may continue for many days to hear of wrecks along the shore, the country is safe, and commerce will soon be riding again at safe anchor. Before the Board commenced its session this morning an unusually large throng of members gathered in the vestibule eager to plunge once more into

THE ARRA OF SPECULATION.

As one of the members expressed it, they were ered hot for business." The President had, apparently, anticipated this condition of affairs, and the doors were no sooner opened and the crowd within them than he resorted to a species of excusable strategy for the purpose of "nouring oil upon the troubled waters," He made a speech. He thanked the members for their exercise of discretion, inwoked them to continued prudence and to help each other to bear the burden that had fallen upon all. Then he read them the rules that had been adopted by the Governing Committee—which, by the way, having been published in every paper in New York, were known almost by heart—and dismissed the young gentlemen to their work. A shower bath could not have been nore effectual in cooling them off, and when, In five minutes afterwards, it was announced that Messrs. Smith & Seaver, who suspended just previous to the closing of the Exchange, would pay in full in cash all claims against them, the nitrons oxide gas exhausted itself in three cheers, and the Stock Exchange of New York settled down as quietly to its brain-burning, soul-disturbing occupation as if nothing had occurred to upset its flaancial equanimity. THE COURSE OF BUSINESS was even uninterrupted by excitement and verged upon dulness. In their desire to exercise caution and maintain confidence members almost did injustice to themselves. Nothing was apparent in the shape of over-trading, and only here and there an effort showed itself to force an un-natural advance, which was checked as quickly as it was begun. None but natural influences, therefore, operated upon stocks. Opinion differs as to whether the aggerated to a degree that must result in a decline, but this is not a question to discuss at the present time. A little further on we may show what the majority of these shares are intrinsically are not directly identified with the interests of the street to choose where they shall cast their net. It le enough that just now

THE WHEELS OF SPECILLATION are again salely in motion, without a jar. When three o'clock arrived general congratulation was expressed that the day had lapsed so quietly; that the experiment had been successful; that all contracts had been satisfactorily adjusted, and finally, as announced by the Chairman of the committee appointed for the purpose of scrutinizing business, that there had been no de fault in the settlement of differences. This temporary good feeling, however, ought not to mislead judgment. Prices should be kept down. Indation should be checked. It is enough that money is now inflated. Better be patient and content with the fluctuations of one or two per cent than simply in a "brokers' martal" bid prices to a figure that will create dismay outside and forestall all the good that may be reasonably anticipated from an Infusion of fresh capital. For years there has not been so favorable a time as the present for the business men of Wall street, who depend upon purely legitimate dealings and honest commissions for their wealth. Therefore high prices have kept capital from flowing into their hands. Now

THE OPPORTUNITY is in their own hands. They have prayed for the minimum. Perhaps it has already been touched, perhaps not: but at any rate stocks are in such a consition that, if not speculatively interfered with in the interest of a dozen or two men on the street, they must and will invite a large amount of outside capital, such as in old times has made the broker community jubilant with success. The prices of the week preceding the crisis and the leading figures of to-day will be found below, but the course of the market may be briefly described here. Western Union opened at 68%, advanced quickly to 69, receded to 68, then to 67%, went to 70 in lots between the call, fell off to 68 a 67% a 67 a 66, cash, a 65%, cash, a 64, cash, a 61, cash; then followed a rebound to 63 a 62 a 63, cash and regular; a 63 1/4 a 65, cash and regular; a 66, regular and cash; a 66 1/4. cash, a 66%, regular, a 66%, cash, a 66, regular. Delaware, Lackawanna and Western opened at 88, receded to 87 a 86%, advanced to 87% and closed at 88. The remainder of the quotations will be found elsewhere. The following were among

THE PRINCIPAL SALES of shares to-day :-- C., C. and I. The total sales of the day, including the above, amounted to 72,985 shares. It is to be borne in mind that a very considerable proportion of these transactions were for cash, the buyers being largely composed of new men and representing fresh capital. In other words, just as has been predicted, greenbacks began their good work, and buyers were glad enough to take away their certificates of stocks to be locked up in distant safes. The fluctuations were somewhat wide, but not more than was to be expected under the circumstances, the marke being thoroughly unsettled. It will be observed that the market closed comparatively firm in tone.

THE MONEY MARKET
was easier to-day, the rates asked being entirely within the command of the street. At first 1/2 per cent per diem was required, but subsequently there was an abundance offered at 14 per cent and at the close at 7 per cent. This plainly indicates ar unlocking of coffers and the entrance of currency into its usual course of circulation. Legal tenders were likewise the subject of a premium of 2 or 3 per cent, but after the Stock Exchange was found | 20 do 925 40 do 25 to be in full and successful operation, without excitement, the rate declined to merely nomina

FOREIGN EXCHANGE took part, in the general confidence manifested in the situation, by advancing to 106% for prima sixty-day sterling and 108 for sight. Early sales were made at 105%. Sight bills were sold all the way from 107% to 107%. Commercial bills are quoted about 1 or 11/2 per cent below bankers' sterling. All these are incident indica-tive of improvement in the export trade.

THE FOREIGN MARKET. Advices from London indicate a firm market for American securities. The following are the latest quotations:-Consols for money, 92% a 92%; consols for account, 92% a 92%, new account; fivetwenty bonds of 1865 (old), 94% a 95; five-twenty bonds of 1867, 95 a 95%; ten-forty bonds, 90% a 91; new fives, 91 a 91%; Erie Railway shares, 43% a 43%; new French loan, 7% a 7% per cent premium. Fifty thousand pounds sterling were drawn from the Bank of England to-day for shipment to New York. The demand for discount at the Bank of England, as well as in open market, is reported as still heavy at five per cent. The steamship Donau, which sailed from Southampton for New York, took out £136,000 in bullion. Paris despatches quote rentes at 56f. 123/c. In Frankfort five-twenties of 1862 are 96%. A special despatch from Berlin hints at financial troubles in Germany. Fancy stocks and bank shares are not salable, and some have failen as much as 20 per cent. There is some talk of government interference. DEATH OF A MEMBER.

INTERMARRIAGE BETWEEN BLACKS AND

[From the Omaha Republican.] Robert Townsend, a Nebraska Probate Judge, has recently taken some pains to ascertain, as far as possible from official sources, the laws in all the States concerning the intermarriage of whites and blacks. The results of his inquiries show that such intermarriages are now valid in New York, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, New Jersey, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas and the District of Columbia. Maine, Michigan and Illinois report that, although they have prohibitory statutes, yet the law with them is a dead letter, and that "such marriages frequently occur." The gentleman replying from Connecticut said:—
"There is no law in this State that prohibits the intermarriage of whites and blacks, unless the black objects." Robert Townsend, a Nebraska Probate Judge,
